Canine Conditioning Seminar Level I & II With Dawn Wallace Warm-ups, Conditioning, Cool-downs

Saturday, November 14, 2020, 9 am – 4 pm with a break for lunch

Registration Fee $136.50 per working spot, GST included

This seminar is 50% lecture and 50% hands-on. Each participant will have the opportunity to try the demonstrated exercises with their dog on FitPaw equipment.

About Dawn:

I have grown up with pets all my life and they hold a very special spot in my heart! I have always wanted to help animals I have seen getting injured during sporting events like herding, disc, flyball and agility, etc. I also do work on show dog or your family pets. They will all benefit from Body Work by 4 Paws Therapy. My dogs compete in flyball, disc and herding. Knowing people that also do body work on animals led me into this type of work after seeing the results on my own pets.

In 2016, I lost one of my dogs to cancer and seeing what she was going through and how I wanted to help her I started doing research so I could learn as much as I could on canine injuries, rehabilitation, core strength training, conditioning, massage therapy, TTouch and photonic light therapy.

I have taken Classes at CIECBW Canada which offers Canine and Equine classes in Alberta Canada (<https://www.ciecbweducation.ca>). Certification from Ojai School of Canine Massage in California, USA (<https://ojaischoolofmassage.com>). Both these schools belong to IAAMB/ACWT and NBCAAM.

I am currently taking Canine Condition Training through both Bobbie Lyons Canine Campus and University of Tennessee.

It is my goal to help make every dog or cat feel the best they can no matter what they do. I continue to do research and take courses so that I keep up to date on the latest therapy information on canines and felines.
